There is currently no way to cancel transactions. Will a transaction still be accepted after many hours? Yes, a transaction will not be 'unaccepted'. How can I report that a Marketplace extension has a malicious certificate? Please open a Marketplace review for the extension and include the following information: The notification URL (via chrome.runtime.getURL('notificationURL'), where 'notificationURL' is the URL for the notification) The extension ID of the malicious extension Extension IDs that contain the word 'chrome' Extension IDs that contain a vendor name Extension IDs that have been blacklisted by Google Chrome Extension IDs from Google's newly released extension repository What will happen if an extension in the Marketplace has a malicious certificate? A security message will appear in the browser for the affected extension. What if I don't want to report the malicious certificate? You don't have to report the malicious certificate; it will be taken care of as a part of the review process. How can I report a broken extension? If an extension breaks, we show a notification to notify users of the issue. For example, an extension that is nonfunctional 82157476af
